

KODAK FIEND VIEREMER CAUGHT WITH THE GOODS ON

Robbed Houston of Stuff
Worth Nearly $300.

SECRETED HIS PLUNDER
BENEATH THE VIADUCT

Henry Vieremer, a carpenter, and confessed burglar, is in the county jail under $1,000 bonds for his appearance at the next meeting of the territorial grand jury, and F. J. Houston, whom he robbed, has all of the stolen goods back in his possession. Vieremer, who is a German, and who has been in the country but a few years, pried open the back window of Houston's store at 118 West Gold avenue on Thursday night and took $250 worth of goods. Among the stuff taken were a half dozen high-priced kodaks, eight revolvers and a half dozen razors. He took the plunder to the viaduct, where he left a portion of it, and took part of it to his rooms on South Second street. He was returning for the second load, when he was intercepted by Officer George Highbargain, who had been shadowing him. When the officer called to him to halt he started to run and a lively chase ensued. He ran into the lot behind Hubbs' laundry, where he was cornered and surrendered. The officer took him to the city jail, where he made a confession, to Chief McMillin after six o'clock yesterday morning, and before Houston discovered the robbery. The remainder of the goods were recovered at once and returned to Mr. Houston.

Vieremer said that he watched until he saw the clerk in Houston's store lock up and go home, and then he proceeded to gain entrance to the store. He folded up the kodaks, which were in the show case, and selected his loot very carefully. Officer Highbargain has one of the best catches of the year to his credit and he is pardonably proud of his achievement.

The police believe that in Vieremer they have the thief who stole the tools from the Romero building on the corner of First and Lead recently. Vieremer, however, has not as yet confessed to this crime, but tools found in his possession lead the police to believe that he is the same man.

Rooming House Thieves.
During Thursday night, a number of rooms in the Garcia block on the corner of Railroad and Fifth, were entered by burglars, but valuables in the way of clothes were overlooked, as the robbers only wanted money and jewelry. When a number of the roomers returned home yesterday morning they found their rooms in a wild state of disorder, but although their effects were strewn about, nothing was taken, the jewelry and money having been taken care of before the owners left.

There are a number of complaints coming in to the police on account of petty thievery and it is believed that the hold-up element and those brought from the east by the work on the Belen cut-off are responsible for these thefts.

GANT HAS VERY NEARLY REACHED THE END OF LIST OF TERRITORIES

James L. Gant, of this city, is vigorously opposed to joint statehood and he would rather have no kind of statehood, says the Phoenix Republican. He has lived in a territory or several of them nearly all his life and has kept out of the way of the statehooders as far as possible. He was caught once in Kansas, but he soon made his escape and went to Colorado. When they got to talking about turning that territory into the Centennial state he thought it was time he went so far away that he believed that he would be out of reach. He settled in Washington and when that territory began to manifest signs of throwing off its swaddling clothes he moved over into Idaho.

That part of the country was finally invaded by the makers of states, and then Mr. Gant, seeing no more likely region than Arizona moved here where he thought he would be allowed to remain undisturbed for the rest of his days. Now at this time of life he does not want to undertake the figure of Alaska nor does he want to go to Porto Rico, Hawaii or the Philippines. He fears that he is approaching the jumping off place.

A Certain Cure for Croup.
When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended. There is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz.: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Give it and a quick cure is sure to follow. Mr. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says of it: "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children, and can truthfully say it always gives prompt relief." For sale by all druggists.
